

As a retired Army Aviation Crew Member I wish to applaud the professionalism I have witnessed by the Army Aviation Heritage Foundation. I have seen them at several different Air Shows over the past two years and am amazed at how well they run their "Huey" Ride Program. In addition, the educational benefit gained by thousands of Americans relating to the American Soldier is tremendous. The Foundation shows so much pride in their Aircraft when talking with the public. Not to mention the excellent safety and maintenance record. The Foundation plays a major role in educating the public on the History of Army Aviation. I urge, with utmost sincerity the need for this Foundation to continue in their present role and renewal of their exemption. Do not let a part of our heritage fall prey to inaction.
